Graduate Student Research Scholarship Application

Fall 2023, Spring 2024, & Summer 2024

Please answer all questions below and submit to Kelly Bellmyer (kbellmyer@ku.edu). The amount of funding is contingent upon the number of applications.

Research awards may be used for costs associated with conducting research: participant/consultant payments, travel costs associated with data collection, or completion of a research project. Funds should support completion of research associated with the doctoral milestones (MARP, minor paper, major paper, dissertation). Travel costs and fees associated with conference travel are not allowed.

The applicant MUST submit a Final Report (1 page) detailing how funds were used (within 1 month of research spending completion).

*Please note that scholarships are subject to taxes. The amount of taxes withheld or owed depends on the individual's tax status. Please take this into account in your research estimate without exceeding the funding limit.
